THE HOUSE OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD

Code of Conduct

Introduction

The Code of Conduct is the foundation of the Compliance Program. The Code of Conduct is a guide to appropriate workplace behavior; it will help you make the right decisions if you are not sure how to respond to a situation. This Code of Conduct applies to everyone including all staff, management, board of directors, volunteers, contractors and vendors. Our staff must comply with both the spirit and the letter of all federal, state and local laws and regulations that apply to the healthcare and other services that the organization provides, as well as, all laws that apply to our business dealings. Violations of these laws and regulations can result in severe penalties for us and the individuals we do work with including financial penalties, exclusion from participation in government programs and in some cases imprisonment.

As an Associate, we share a commitment to legal, ethical and professional conduct in everything that we do. We support these commitments in our work each day, whether we care for residents, order supplies, prepare meals, keep records, take physician orders, pay invoices or make decisions about the future of our organization.

The success of The House of the Good Shepherd as a provider of healthcare and other services depends on you, your personal and professional integrity, your responsibility to act in good faith and your obligation to do the right things for the right reasons.

The Compliance Program provides principles, standards, training and tools to guide you in meeting your legal, ethical and professional responsibilities. As an Associate, you are responsible for supporting the Compliance Program in every aspect of workplace behavior. Your performance review and continued working relationship includes understanding and adhering to the compliance plan as it applies to your job responsibilities and all your interactions with The House of the Good Shepherd.

This handbook describes our Code of Conduct. It supplements the Employee Handbook and the specific Policies and Procedures that apply to departmental job responsibilities. As a business partner or contracted partner it provides guidelines and expectations for our continued relationship. The Code of Conduct discusses the importance of:

Care Excellence – providing quality, compassionate, respectful and clinically appropriate care.

Professional Excellence – maintaining ethical standards of healthcare and business practices.

Regulatory Excellence – complying with federal and state laws, regulations and guidelines that govern healthcare, housing services and other services we provide.

A Shared Responsibility

Because we are in the business of caring for and providing services for others, it is critical that each of us adheres to appropriate standards of behavior. As individuals and as an organization we are responsible to many different groups. We must act ethically and responsibly in our relations with:

- Residents and their families;
- Colleagues and coworkers;
- Volunteers and affiliated colleagues;
- Healthcare payors, including the federal and state governments;
- Regulators, surveyors and monitoring agencies;
- Physicians, Nurse Practitioners, Physician Assistants;
- Vendors and suppliers;
- Business associates; and
- The Communities we serve.

Any compromise in our standards could harm our residents, our coworkers and our organization. Like every organization that provides healthcare, we do business under very strict regulations and close governmental oversight. Fraud and abuse are serious issues. Sometimes even an innocent mistake can have significant consequences that could result in substantial penalties to THE HOUSE OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD.

All Associates are required to complete training on the Code of Conduct and the Compliance Program as a condition of employment and business relationship and you must follow the Code of Conduct to remain employed. The Code of Conduct sets forth mandatory standards. There is no justification for departing from the Code of Conduct no matter what the situation may be. Every Associate is responsible for ensuring that they comply with the Code of Conduct and all policies and procedures. Any Associate who violates any of these standards and/or policies and procedures is subject to discipline up to and including termination of employment.

A Personal Obligation

As we are each responsible for following the Code of Conduct in our daily work, we are also responsible for enforcing it. This means that you have a duty to report any problems you observe or perceive, regardless of your role.

As an Associate, you must help ensure that you are doing everything practical to comply with applicable laws. If you observe or suspect a situation that you believe may be unethical, illegal, unprofessional or wrong, or you have a clinical, ethical or financial concern, you must report it. You are expected to satisfy this duty by complying with the Three-Step Reporting Process and New Jersey required reporting obligations.

COMPLIANCE LINE

There is a specific communication process for reporting compliance issues.

The Three Step Reporting Process

- First, talk to your supervisor. He or she is most familiar with the laws, regulations and policies that relate to your work.
- Second, if you are not able to talk to your supervisor, seek out another member of the management team or someone from human resources.
- Third, if you still have a concern, contact the Compliance Liaison or member of the organization's Compliance Committee.

If none of the above steps resolve your questions or concerns, or if you prefer, call the toll free Compliance Line at 800-211-2713 for assistance. All calls are confidential and you may call ANONYMOUSLY if you choose.

You can make a report in good faith to the Compliance Line without fear of reprisal, retaliation or punishment for your actions. Anyone, including a supervisor who retaliates against an Associate for contacting the Compliance Line or reporting compliance issues in another manner, will be disciplined.

The Compliance Line is staffed by an outside agency and is available 24 hours, 7 days a week. Each call is investigated and kept confidential to the highest degree possible.

Care Excellence

Our most important job is providing quality care to our residents. This means offering compassionate support to our residents and working toward the best possible outcomes while following all applicable rules and regulations.

Resident Rights

Residents receiving healthcare and other services have clearly defined rights. To honor these, we must:

- Make no distinction in the admission, transfer or discharge of a resident, or in the care we provide on the basis of race, gender, age, religion, national origin, disability, color, marital status, veteran status, medical condition, sexual orientation or other protected class status, insurance or financial status;

- Protect residents' rights to be free from physical and chemical restraints; and
- Respect the residents' right to self-determination and autonomy.

Abuse and Neglect

We will not tolerate any type of resident abuse or neglect – physical, emotional, verbal or sexual. Residents must be protected from abuse by Associates, family members, legal guardians, friends or any other person. This standard applies to all residents at all times. The state of New Jersey defines abuse as the following:

Abuse – the infliction of injury, unreasonable confinement, intimidation or punishment with resulting physical harm or pain or mental anguish, or deprivation by an individual, including a care taker of goods or services that are necessary to attain or maintain physical, mental and psychosocial well-being. This presumes that instance of abuse of all residents, even those in a coma, cause physical harm, or pain or mental anguish. The term includes the following:

- Verbal Abuse - Any use of oral, written, or gestured language that willfully includes disparaging and derogatory terms to clients or their families, or within their hearing distance, regardless of age, ability to comprehend or disability;

- Sexual Abuse – includes sexual harassment, sexual coercion or sexual assault;
- Physical Abuse – Includes hitting, slapping, pinching, kicking. The term also includes controlling behavior through corporal punishment or deprivation
- Mental Abuse – include humiliation, harassment, threats of punishment or deprivation;
- Involuntary Seclusion – Includes separation of a resident from other residents from his or her room or confinement to his or her room against the resident's will or the will of the resident's legal representative;
- Neglect – The deprivation by a caretaker of goods or service which are necessary to maintain physical or mental health.

Any Associate who abuses or neglects a resident is subject to termination. In addition, legal or criminal action may be taken. Abuse and neglect must be reported immediately to your supervisor or other member of management under the mandatory reporting requirements in the state of New Jersey. DO NOT call the Compliance Line for issues of abuse or neglect.

Report them immediately!

Resident Confidentiality

Every Associate must treat all resident information, including any documents or records that contain client-identifying information, medical records and charts as confidential. Associates must use and disclose medical, financial or personal information only in a manner consistent with the HIPAA Privacy policies and procedures and state and federal law.

Resident Property

Associates must respect residents' personal property and protect it from loss, theft, damage or misuse. Associates who have access to property or funds must maintain accurate records and accounts.

Professional Excellence

The professional, responsible and ethical behavior of every Associate reflects on the reputation of our organization and the services we provide. Whether you work directly with residents or in other areas that support resident services you are expected to maintain our standards of honesty, integrity and professional excellence, everyday.

Hiring and Employment Practices

The House of the Good Shepherd is committed to fair employment practices. When hiring and evaluating, we:

All promotions, transfers evaluations, compensation and disciplinary actions also follow this policy.
- Conduct employment screenings to protect the integrity of our workforce and welfare of our residents and Associates.
- Require all who need licenses or certifications to maintain their credentials in compliance with state and federal laws; documentation of licenses or certifications must be provided.

Employee Screening

The House of the Good Shepherd is prohibited by federal or state law from employing, or retaining, or contracting with anyone who is excluded from any federal or state funded programs. Screening procedures have been implemented and are conducted prior to hire and a minimum of annually thereafter, to identify such individuals. These standards also apply to temporary healthcare workers. These policies and procedures are intended to ensure that we do not contract with, employ or bill for services ordered, rendered or supervised by anyone:

Any Associate who is alleged to have committed a serious criminal act will be suspended or, if convicted of a felony, terminated.

Employee Relations

To maintain an ethical, comfortable work environment, staff must:

- Refrain from any form of sexual harassment or violence in the workplace;
- Treat all colleagues and coworkers with equal respect, regardless of their national origin, race, color, religion, sexual orientation, age, gender identity or disability;
- Protect the privacy of other Associates by keeping personal information confidential and allowing only authorized individuals access to the information; and
- Not supervise or be supervised by an individual with whom they have a close personal relationship.

Workplace Violence

Every employee has the right to work in a safe environment. Violence, abuse or aggressive behavior will not be tolerated.

Workplace Safety

Maintaining a safe workplace is critical to the well-being of our residents, visitors and coworkers. That is why policies and procedures have been developed that describes the organization's safety requirements. Every Associate should become familiar with safety regulations and emergency plans regarding fire and disaster in their work area.

In addition to organizational policies, we must abide by all environmental laws and regulations. You are expected to follow organizational safety guidelines and to take personal responsibility for helping to maintain a secure work environment. If you notice a safety hazard, you must take action to correct it if you can, or report it to your supervisor immediately.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse

We are committed to maintaining a workforce dedicated and capable of providing quality resident services and performing other applicable duties. To that end, Associates are prohibited from consuming any substance that impairs their ability to provide quality services or otherwise perform their employment.

Associates may never use, sell or bring on company property, alcohol, illegal drugs and/or narcotics or report to work under the influence of alcohol, illegal drugs and/or narcotics. Associates may not accept any gift from a resident under a will or trust instrument except in those cases where the Associate and resident are related by blood or marriage.

Under no circumstances will an Associate solicit business courtesies, entertainment or gifts that depart from the Business Courtesies and Gifts policy.

Conflict of Interest

A conflict of interest exists any time your loyalty to the organization is, or even appears to be, compromised by a personal interest. There are many types of conflict of interest and these guidelines cannot anticipate them all, however the following provide some examples:

- Financial involvement with vendors or others that would cause you to put their financial interests ahead of ours;
- An immediate family member who works for a vendor or contractor doing business with the organization and who is in a position to influence your decisions affecting the work of the organization;
- Participating in transactions that put your personal interests ahead of The House of the Good Shepherd or cause loss or embarrassment to the organization;
- Taking a job outside of The House of the Good Shepherd that overlaps with your normal working hours at or interferes with your job performance; or
- Working for The House of the Good Shepherd and another vendor that provides goods or services at the same time.

All Associates must ensure that they remain free from actual or perceived conflicts of interest.

Use of Property

Property – everything from office supplies and computers to company vehicles – represents a significant expense and should only be used for legitimate business purposes. Everyone must make sure that they:

- Only use property for the organization's business, not personal use;
- Exercise good judgment and care when using supplies, equipment, vehicles and other property; and
- Respect copyright and intellectual property laws; or
- Never copy or download software without permission from IT.

Computers and the Internet

Associates are expected to use computers, email and internet systems appropriately and according to the established policy and procedure. Associates are not permitted to use the internet for improper or unlawful activity or download or play games on organization computers.

Internet use can be tracked and how Associates use their time on the Internet will be monitored.

Vendor Relationships

We take responsibility for being a good client and dealing with vendors honestly and ethically. We are committed to fair competition among prospective vendors and contractors for our business. Arrangements between The House of the Good Shepherd and its vendors must always be approved by management. Certain business arrangements must be detailed in writing, approved by management and the Compliance Officer or designee. Agreements with contractors and vendors who receive resident information, with the exception of care providers, will require a Business Associate Agreement with the organization as defined by Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act/HITECH. Contractors and vendors who provide resident care, reimbursement or other services to resident beneficiaries of federal and/ or state healthcare programs are subject to the Code of Conduct and must:

- Maintain defined standards for the products and services they provide to The House of the Good Shepherd and the residents;
- Comply with all policies and procedures as well as the laws and regulations that apply to their business or profession;

Marketing and Advertising

We use marketing and advertising activities to educate the public, increase awareness of our services and recruit new Associates. These materials and announcements, whether verbal, printed or electronic will present only truthful, informative, non-deceptive information.

We abide by the HIPAA/HITECH privacy rules in our marketing practices and provide individuals instructions on how to opt out of future communications.

Regulatory Excellence

Because we are in healthcare, we must follow the many federal, state and local laws that govern our business. Keeping up with the most current rules and regulations is a big job – and an important one. We are all responsible for learning and staying current with the federal, state and local laws, rules and regulations, as well as the policies and procedures that apply to our job responsibilities.

Billing and Business Practices

We are committed to operating with honesty and integrity. Therefore, all Associates must ensure that all statements, submissions and other communications with residents, prospective residents, the government, suppliers and other third parties are truthful, accurate and complete.

We are committed to ethical, honest billing practices and expect every Associate to be vigilant in maintaining these standards at all times. We will not tolerate any deliberately false or inaccurate billing. Any Associate who knowingly submits a false claim, or provides information that may contribute to submitting a false claim such as falsified clinical documentation, to any payer – public or private – is subject to termination. In addition, legal or criminal action may be taken.

Prohibited practices include, but are not limited to:

- Billing for services or items that were not provided or costs that were not incurred;
- Duplicate billing - billing for item or services more than once;
- Billing for items or services that were not medically necessary;

- Submitting bills without supporting documentation;
- Soliciting, offering, receiving or paying a kickback, bribe, rebate or any other remuneration in exchange for referrals; and/or
- Unlawfully inducing business associates.

If you observe or suspect that false claims are being submitted or have knowledge of a prohibited practice, you must immediately report the situation to a supervisor, the Compliance Liaison, the Compliance Officer or the Compliance Hotline.

Referrals and Kickbacks

Associates and related entities often have close associations with local healthcare providers and other referral sources. To demonstrate ethical business practices, we must make sure that all relationships with these professionals are open, honest and legal.

Resident referrals are accepted based solely on the clinical needs and our ability to provide the services required by the resident and our ability to provide the identified services. The House of the Good Shepherd never solicits, accepts offers or gives kickbacks of any kind.

A “kickback” is an item or service of value including cash, goods, supplies, gifts, “freebie” or bribes that is received in exchange for a business decision such as a resident referral. Accepting kickbacks is not only against policies and procedures but also against the law. To assure adherence to ethical standards in our business relationships, Associates must:

- Verify all business arrangements with physicians or other healthcare providers or vendors in a written document; and
- Comply with all state and federal regulations when arranging referrals to physician-owned businesses or other healthcare providers.

Associates cannot request, accept, offer or give any item or service that is intended to influence – or even appears to influence – a healthcare service paid for any private or commercial healthcare payer or federal or state healthcare program, including Medicare and Medicaid, or other providers.

Copyright Laws

Print and electronic materials are protected by copyright laws. Associates are expected to respect these laws and not reproduce electronic print or print material without the permission from the writer or publisher.

Financial Practices and Controls

Ensuring that financial and operating information is current and accurate is an important means of protecting assets. All Associates must make sure that all information provided by bookkeepers, accountants, reimbursement staff, internal and external auditors and compliance staff are accurate and complete. We must also comply with federal and state regulations when maintaining accounting records and financial statements and cooperate fully with internal and external audits.

Fair Dealing

All Associates must deal fairly with residents, suppliers, competitors and other Associates. No Associate, manager or director shall take unfair advantage of anyone through manipulation, concealment, abuse of privileged information, misrepresentation of material facts, or any other unfair dealing practice.

Protection and Proper Use of Assets

All Associates must protect the assets of the organization and ensure their authorized and efficient use. Theft, carelessness and waste have a direct impact on the organization's viability. All assets must be used solely for legitimate business purposes.

Document Creation, Use and Maintenance

Every Associate is responsible for the integrity and accuracy of documents, records, and e-mails including, but not limited to, client medical records, billing records, and financial records. No information in any record or document may ever be falsified or altered.

Associates must not disclose internally or externally, either directly or indirectly, confidential information except on a need to know basis and in the performance of their duties. Associates must never disclose confidential information externally unless expressly directed to do so by legal counsel. Upon termination of employment an Associate must promptly return all confidential information to the organization.

Examples of confidential business information includes potential or threatened litigation, litigation strategy, purchases or sales of substantial assets, business plans, marketing strategies, organizational plans, financial management, training materials, fee schedules, department performance metrics and administrative policies.

Licensure and Certification

We are committed to ensuring that only qualified professionals provide care and services to residents. Practitioners and other professionals treating residents must abide by all applicable licensing, credentialing and certification requirements. In addition, every effort is made to validate licenses and certification through the appropriate state or federal agency and screening of all employees through the OIG and GSA data bases.

Voluntary Disclosure

It is the policy of The House of the Good Shepherd to voluntarily report fraudulent conduct it uncovers that affects any federal or state healthcare program.

Government Investigations

We are committed to cooperating with reasonable requests from any governmental inquiry, audits or investigations. Associates are encouraged to cooperate with such requests, conscious of the fact that Associate(s) have/has the following rights:

- Associate has the right to speak or decline to speak, as all such conversation is voluntary;
- Associate has the right to speak to an attorney before deciding to be interviewed; and
- Associate can insist that an attorney be present if he/she agrees to be interviewed.

In complying with policy you must not:

- Lie or make false or misleading statements to any government investigator or inspector;
- Destroy or alter any records or documents in anticipation of a request from the government or the court;
- Attempt to persuade another team member or any person to give false or misleading information to a government investigator or inspector; or
- Be uncooperative with a government investigation.

If you receive a subpoena or other written request for information from the government or a court, contact your supervisor, the Compliance Liaison or the Compliance Officer before responding.

Disciplinary Action

Disciplinary action will be taken against any Associate who fails to act in accordance with this Code of Conduct, the Compliance Program, supporting policies and procedures and applicable federal and state laws. Disciplinary action may be warranted in relation to violators of the Compliance Program and to those who fail to detect violations or who fail to respond appropriately to a violation, whatever their role in the organization. Disciplinary action will utilize standard disciplinary processes or termination of business relationships and agreements. The Compliance Officer, in conjunction with the Chief Executive Officer, is empowered to initiate the disciplinary action through the immediate supervisor and to monitor appropriate implementation of the disciplinary process.

Compliance Questions

The laws applicable to our operations are numerous and complicated. When an Associate is not sure whether a particular activity or practice violates the law or the Compliance Program, the Associate should not “guess” as to the correct answer. Instead, the Associate should immediately seek guidance from his or her department supervisor or the Compliance Liaison. Associates will not be penalized for asking compliance-related questions. Indeed, we are intent on maintaining a culture in which every Associate is comfortable asking the questions necessary to ensure that he or she understands the duties imposed on him or her by this Code of Conduct, the Compliance Program and other applicable federal and state laws.

Conclusion

The Compliance Program is critical for The House of the Good Shepherd's continued success. You are crucial to ensuring the integrity of this organization. The Code of Conduct and the Compliance Program set standards for the legal, professional and ethical conduct of our business. Some key points to remember are:

- The House of the Good Shepherd and all its Associates are committed to personal and organizational integrity, to act in good faith, and to be accountable for our actions.
- The Code of Conduct and the Compliance Program prepare us to deal with the growing complexity of ethical, professional and legal requirements of delivering healthcare and the CCRC environment.
- The Compliance Program is an ongoing initiative designed to foster a supportive work environment, provide standards for clinical and business conduct, and offer education and training opportunities for Associates.

The success of The House of the Good Shepherd's Compliance Program depends on our commitment to act with integrity, both personally and as an organization. As an Associate, your duty is to ensure that the organization is doing everything practical to comply with applicable laws. You are expected to satisfy this duty by performing your responsibilities in accordance with professional standards, the regulations and the policies and procedures.
